Footnotes

JEMOGRAPHY hitched up to WILD WILLIAM in the early going, had the pilot grab hold and ease the mount back, stalked the ongoing pace dispute from path two during the initial stages of the run around the bend, slid over to the rail leaving the three-eighths pole and inched up to the ones to catch, was still down along the inside route stepping into the stretch, closed the gap, altered course back into path two at the furlong grounds, and after making further progress wedged itself in between the front runners, vied with vigour against them beginning from the general area of the eighth pole, gained a narrow lead with approximately a sixteenth to go, came under attack from a pair of opponents to the outside in the final stages but gamely staved them off. NO MORE

MIRACLES raced two to three wide with a good view of the contested pace, was more the latter spinning into the stretch, closed in readily during the ensuing furlong to loom boldly, continued to chip away at the deficit, displayed willingness, but came up short. CAUSFORCELEBRATION stayed along the inside route after the field had been sent on its way, abandoned it as the half was being completed, got sent out towards path five during the initial portion of the stretch, kicked into his best late, flashing strong toot, had to settle for the show. WILD WILLIAM attained a prominent position after the start, disputed the pace while taking the three path, got put to a drive for the drive home, began the final furlong desperately clutching a narrow advantage, defended it against it against two others for next sixteenth before releasing and weakening. LAUGHING MANNERS kept watch on the pace from the rail, was on hold awaiting options starting from the five-sixteenths marker, managed to angle himself into path three and into clearance a furlong later, failed to fire appreciably when asked to. CHAMPAGNE CHILLS between the inside and the two path taking up the chase for the first half, was under urging swinging three wide into the stretch, made some belated headway. NO WORRIES MATE saved ground for the initial half, shifted wider and wider until about eight wide in the lane, rallied mildly. LORCAN in path three at the top of the turn, was in the six path by midlane, made no bids. SCHWARBERTOWN was gathered after breaking to the outside, departed the backstretch from the three path, went about the bend lightly hand urged, commenced the stretch slightly wider, tired. HUDSON OVERPASS vied for command from the two path, got turned loose for the drive home, came under heavier pressure soon afterwards, gave up the top for good deep into the furlong grounds, remained a factor before giving way in the final sixteenth. BLOOD RED SKY broke the tardiest after smacking into the right side of the starting gate, proceeded along in a sluggish manner on the backstretch after darting into path two, was moved out seven wide in the stretch, never reached a contending position. BLESSED HONOUR hung out four wide on the turn, wandered out to path eight in retreat down the stretch.
