3 WHISPURRING KITTEN's career debut was pretty good. Faced nine and beat six of them. Was a little one-paced on the one hand but on the other lost ground. Worked back - might have more speed if she breaks better. Short dirt, long dirt, short synthetic, long synthetic - they've looked high and low for a maiden race $270K auction buy 7 PEACE CORPS can win. What's not been tried yet is a turf sprint like this, and not only might that be a solid fit, she's not going to find many softer MSW spots than this race. Surprising speed from 2 LADY NOY last out after she'd showed nothing like that kind of pace in her first three races. The class move here from $25K MCL seems more lateral than anything, but do wonder if she regresses back on fairly short rest following a peak.
