

CLOSER LOOK: Has just one eye and anxiety issues but that hasn't stopped her from being a revelation this year; looked absolutely smashing easily winning the G1 La Brea and G2 Santa Monica; yes, it's her first time routing but she's bred all over to go at least this far and the way she's relaxed early in those sprints before kicking home gives every indication this trip should be no issue; stuck on the rail making you wonder if that could cause some anxiety. - Michael Hammersly
