3 CAUSFORCELEBRATION has certainly had his chances (20) but he may have found the right group as he ships to Tampa for the first time and should appreciate the class relief; looking to come from off the pace but he has enough speed to stay close from the start. 5 PURRS AGAIN fits with these on the strength of that last-out Beyer, which is second only to the 65 posted by 2-1 favorite 6 LION CHARMER; clearly dangerous if he can run back to that one and capable of winning this with a move forward in his third start off the layoff. LION CHARMER made his turf debut here last year and ran well enough, against better, and he's down in class today after tiring vs. richer at Gulfstream in his seasonal debut; obviously a threat if able to avoid a "bounce" in his 2nd start off the layoff.
