

Analysis By:Brad Free

2 WINNING ELEMENT, six-time winner, gets the nod over lightly raced 1 LAMBEAU. Both recent starts by WINNING ELEMENT (February, March) were open-length $40-50k claiming wins in fast times. He has tactical speed, he can rally, and enters as the "best horse." LAMBEAU missed by a nose last out at this level, which validated his fast-pace runner-up comeback two back. Though favored both losses, he ran well each time. Not sure what type of trip he will get, however. He typically sets the pace, but the stretch-out sprinter in post 6 complicates the scenario. 13 TIZAMAGICIAN, a 3yo, improved this winter. Tough outside post, however. KISS TODAY GOODBYE ran the best race of his five-start career last time, a highly rated maiden win. The light bulb is now on. SOLDIER BOY is the aforementioned sprinter, first time long. Come and catch him.