

Analysis By:Mike Beer

6 LONESOME FUGITIVE was defeated as the favorite on debut with a Beyer of 67 but he ran much better than it looks in that spot while rating back from the start and then having a tough time keeping a straight course in the stretch while gaining all the way; threat to improve quickly with that experience behind him. 4 TURN OF EVENTS came close in his second career start then tried Grade 3 company in his next turf start; got caught wide and couldn't reach when back in with maidens two back and he ran well last time while trying to gain up the rail late. 7 VOODOO ZIP owns solid figures and has been right there with a look in each of his four starts to date, only to come up short each time; makes plenty of sense here for a top trainer but is running out of chances already.