

CLOSER LOOK: The 2nd coming of Ghostzapper or did he simply make the most out of 2 perfect situations?; well, the Beyers from his first 2 starts dazzle; it's a bit disconcerting about a 5-month gap between his 2 starts but he had an excuse (foot bruise), and the gap since his Sept. 5 is understandable as they opted not to crank him up for the BC as it was asking too much too soon; should get an ideal trip stalking/pressing from the outside; cost $1 million so it's no shock he's doing well as there were expectations from the start; still, Dr. Schivel and co. are a lot tougher than those he whipped in those first 2 starts; Sadler won this in 2010 with Twirling Candy
