5 MY BOY TATE came into that Thunder Rumble last time off a pair of dominant wins out of town and wound up losing to longshot Lobsta without apparent excuse after fighting his way to a lead in the stretch; still thought he ran well that day and, ultimately, this race id not come up as tough as that one. 2

CHESTERTOWN is nearly a year removed from his last win, which came going long over its track; stakes winner is dependent on pace and trip but don't mind him over these shorter distances and through he ran pretty well last time in a race where he had no chance. 4 LOBSTA was probably underrated heading into that Thunder Rumble last time off the layoff but that was still a significant step forward for this colt, who battled on the pace and fought back gamely in the stretch to get the better of favored MY BOY TATE; will be a shorter price this time but he will be tough right back if he can return with a similar effort.
